In my opinion

We're good at these play-offs

THE dust has settled, the decks are clear, it's the play-offs for Charlton.

They present an entirely new challenge which begins with the first leg away to Swindon Town this Friday (May 14) kick-off 7.45 pm, with the return leg at The Valley next Monday (May 17) kick-off 7.45pm. So look here, stop snivelling and remember you're Addicks.

History is on our side. Not entirely on our side, but definitely leaning our way.

Remember the cataclysmic conclusion to the 1986-87 season, with the rampant bully boys of Leeds United seen off by Peter Shirliff's two extra-time goals at St Andrews; recall Clive Mendonca's Wembley hat-trick in 1998 which, while legendary in London SE7, is hardly mentioned in Sunderland.

Both Leeds and Sunderland were warm favourites. There was, of course, that unpleasant business involving Crystal Palace in 1996 but let's move quickly on. The point is that Charlton are pretty good at this play-off rigmarole and although neither Shirliff nor Mendonca is available this time, cometh the extra half-hour, cometh the cold-eyed sharpshooter. Except in 1996, but we agreed not to go into that.

Semi-final opponents Swindon have already seen more than enough of Charlton this season. Added time equalisers, by Miguel Llera for nine-man Addicks on Boxing Day and Nicky Bailey at the County Ground in February, robbed them of four points, which might have seen Town avoid the agonies of play-offs and go up automatically.

They'll be bearing a grudge but Phil Parkinson is confident his side is mentally and physically prepared for what lies ahead. It's his opinion that Charlton have come through trying times to hit form at the right stage. You won't hear Nolan dissenting.

Like all of you, I've suffered stoically as Charlton appeared to falter. Now is not the time, though, for recriminations or critical analysis. To cheerfully plagiarise Winston Churchill, this is not the end, or even the beginning of the end. It is merely the end of the beginning. The end itself will occur at Wembley on May 29. Keep the date clear.

Kevin Nolan

Something for everyone in the great Greenwich summer of fun

by Pat Greenwood

A SUMMER of fun is beckoning. Just check out the latest edition of Greenwich Council's 'What's On' magazine being delivered across the borough today, along with your copy of GT.

And it's not just the great Greenwich outdoors that's calling.

The council's libraries, leisure centres, museums, Surestart centres for under-fives and their carers, youth clubs and community halls also have a full calendar planned to suit all tastes from now until September.

The Greenwich Festivals guide, in the middle pages of the magazine, focuses on the numerous and prestigious arts festivals coming up.

You can also read how the council's sports areas are seeing new investment, making it easier for everyone to take up a new activity and get fitter. This is all part of Greenwich's preparations to take centre stage in 2012 as both an Olympic host borough and a Royal Borough.

As you look through the new magazine, you'll see a whole mix of events, including community fun days, multicultural festivals, live music shows, sports tournaments and more.

You can also go to the council's website www.greenwich.gov.uk or look in Greenwich Time to get information on what's on week-to-week around the borough.

If you have any comments about the new 'What's On' magazine - or additional events you wish to tell the council about - please email whats-on@greenwich.gov.uk

The website already has 180 event listings, with more being added every week, and you are welcome to add yours!

So what's coming up first?

If you're looking for a great day out, there's the May Fayre on Sunday, May 30, at Well Hall Pleasaunce, the beautiful park almost opposite Eltham Station on Well Hall Road, from 10am until 4pm. The family fun will include bouncy castles, owl and farm animal displays, craft demonstrations, a live band, a DJ, children's activities, stalls and refreshments. And entry is free.

The Pleasaunce is doing it again on Sunday, August 29! There'll be a second family funday there, again from 10am until 4pm.

Cleaned up!

Report says
Greenwich
is cleaner than ever

by Peter Cordwell

GREENWICH is just about the cleanest it's ever been - and that's official.

The independent National Indicator Framework (NIF95) that examines litter, detritus, graffiti and flyposting shows Greenwich's results for 2009/10 are the best ever.

Around 300 "transects" - 50-metre stretches of land, usually roads - were inspected, mainly in the Woolwich Riverside, Charlton, Peninsula, Coldharbour and Eltham, and Shooters Hill areas.

Based on the surveyors' calculations, the provisional "scores" are:

- Litter 3 per cent
- Detritus 15 per cent
- Combined litter and detritus 9 per cent
- Graffiti 9 per cent
- Flyposting 1 per cent

Data based on samples have margins for error but, even so, the litter score is the best ever recorded in the borough, as is the combined litter and detritus score.

Although the graffiti score is a little disappointing, flyposting across Greenwich continues to be very low.

Chris Wood, the council's director of neighbourhood services, told GT: "I'm delighted by these figures because I know how hard council staff are working every day to make Greenwich cleaner and greener.

CLEAN TEAM: council workers get stuck into a fly tip as part of their role in keeping the borough cleaner and greener

"I would have wanted a better score on graffiti but it will serve to make us increase our efforts in that area. Indeed, the key approach is to keep on top of the situation, not allow it to get out of hand."

I'm delighted by these figures because I know how hard council staff are working

Towards the end of last year, 250 local unemployed people benefited from a major council recruitment scheme, mostly on environment work, including seven new teams of special wardens for waste, town centres and neighbourhoods.

Chris Wood said: "This has been great for the borough as well as for the people involved. A real team spirit quickly developed and I'm confident residents will continue to see improvements in the months ahead

Three more dogs seized

POLICE in Greenwich have made four arrests and seized three dogs as they continue to target owners of prohibited and dangerous dogs in the community.

In total, seven warrants were executed on April 30 across the borough in a joint enterprise between the Dog Status Unit and the Disruption Team. The dogs were seized from addresses in Antelope Road, SE18, Cambert Way SE3, and Cantwell Road, SE18.

All three dogs are currently being examined and are suspected of being Pit Bull Terriers. Four people were arrested during the raids for possession of dangerous or prohibited dogs and were bailed to return to a south east London police station on June 9. DS Doug Skinner, from the Greenwich Disruption Team, told GT: "We have been gathering intelligence provided mostly by members of the public and I am pleased with the result of the warrants.

"The operation has been running for six weeks and so far we have executed 15 warrants, arrested nine people and seized eight Pit Bull dogs. Anyone with a dangerous or illegal dog will face police actions and is likely to have the dog seized. "We will not tolerate anyone keeping illegal dogs in the borough." He added: "I would ask anyone with information about dangerous dogs to contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 or their local Safer Neighbourhood Team. Every lead that we receive will be followed."

It all squares with me

I AM writing in response to the makeover of Woolwich town squares article. I think the regeneration of the squares will be a good thing for everyone connected with the area. They'll make Woolwich a great place to be and more attractive to different kinds of people. I can't wait to see the better facilities, and the proposed festivals are of great interest to me also. It's vital for a town centre to have some night life that adds to the character of the area. It's clearly what Woolwich needs.

I just hope that once the regeneration is complete that the town squares will stay decent, won't be forgotten about and kept in pristine condition as it would be such a shame for an opportunity like this for Woolwich to be wasted. As Woolwich is local to me I will definitely make the effort to see it first hand once the project is complete. I am sure that this is a step in the right direction for Woolwich and the council.

David Hall, Eltham

The right size

IN December, 2009, I wrote to you complaining about the lack of choice and availability when downsizing. Now, however, I must congratulate Greenwich Council on finding me my dream home. In February this year I moved in to a one-bedroom bungalow in Eltham which exceeded all my expectations. So thank you to all the staff on Greenwich Council who helped make my move possible.

M Gabb, Eltham

● DELIGHTED to hear it, Mr Gabb. Ed

● LOVED the article on Linton Mead primary school (GT, March 4) and the visit of TV gardener Diarmuid through the Growing Greenwich project. I'm a big believer in practical subjects, especially in primary schools because as we always used to say, it's best to catch 'em young! What the children are doing is also very real, which is another prerequisite to learning, in my opinion. I'm sure the Linton Mead pupils will appreciate the benefits in years to come.

J. Bishop, Lee

Yes, but what about the side streets?

WHAT a laugh! You clean up the main streets so all the visitors can see you are doing a great job! Well, what about the side streets that are hardly touched! Get them to clean those and with big brooms, not tickling sticks! Get them to clean all of it, not just bits they fancy! I have been in Eltham for three years (Plumstead for 18!) and have to resort to cleaning my part of the pavement and street myself. Shouldn't it be weekly cleaning from you guys? Well, let us see the money you say is going into street cleaning actually work for the people who are paying for it!

Laura Wilson, Eltham

● EARSHALL Road is swept over two days,

Monday and Tuesday. The operation is split because of local geography (another busy road, Westmount Road, runs right through the middle) and the length of the road. There have been extensive road works in this area recently which have presented the council with some challenges. This is compounded by the fact that this area is also heavily parked. However, we have continued to clean the road as best we can under the circumstances and the road received an extra sweep this week. According to our monitoring, this road has been swept when scheduled with the exception of the recent bank holidays. Ed

Annette and Lizzie in training for the charity Moon Walk

by Pat Greenwood

LONG-time pals Annette Mayes and Lizzie Lucas are preparing to put on zany bras and do something amazing for charity.

The pair, both past pupils of Eltham Hill School, are doing last-minute power walk training to take part in the 13th Playtex MoonWalk – a staggering 26.2 miles – around London from midnight on Saturday, May 15.

The two Lee mums, who managed their first MoonWalk last year in 7 hours 47 minutes – aim to trim their time to 7 hours and raise as much cash as they can for breast cancer charities.

Annette, who has two daughters and a son, told GT: “We’ll be two fortysomethings, wearing Las Vegas showgirl costumes - all feathers and sparkles and lights!”

The pair - who have been power training in and around the Sidcup bypass (but only in casual walking-gear!) for the past few weeks - are gradually getting their outfits together.

“We’re including 10 feather-boas, no less, in red, white and blue!” said Annette.

She was prompted to take part in the fight against breast cancer because one of her friends has had a double mastectomy.

“All being well, Lizzie and I hope to take part in the Berlin and the New York events in the future,” she told us.

SHE did it! Deptford community worker and mum-of-two, Victoria Phipps, has raised £1,515 - with more coming in - after completing her first London Marathon. Victoria, who supports young and old at the Armada Community Centre in McMillan Street, originally aimed to raise £1,500 for research into diabetes. She says it killed her 42-year-old friend, Norv, in May of 2006 - before he even realised that he was suffering from the condition. She managed to finish the world-famous race in 6 hours 29 mins and 59 seconds. She told GT: "A big 'thank you' to everyone who supported me. 'As I came up to the Armada community centre at around noon, I could hear everyone shouting, 'She's coming! She's coming!' 'There were banners, there was face-painting, and some of the older people from the Wednesday and Friday club were out there too. 'It was a big help.' Victoria has specifically raised cash for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF). It was founded by a small group of parents almost 25 years ago, and it exists to find the cure for type 1 diabetes and its complications.

Greenwich pupils shine at mini paralympics

by Dick Townsend-Smith

PRIMARY school pupils took part in a mini paralympic games with other youngsters from the Olympic host boroughs last month.

Ten youngsters from five Greenwich schools enjoyed a range of sports when they spent four days at Stoke Mandeville Stadium, the 'spiritual home' of the Paralympic Games.

They were part of a group of 60 disabled children who went to 'Time to Shine', an event designed to increase young disabled people's participation in sports and cultural activities.

The 7-11 year olds were able to try out track and field sports, plus basketball, cycling, hockey, swimming, tennis, table tennis and more. They stayed at the stadium over a weekend, along with their parents, carers and brothers and sisters.

The 10 pupils came from Middle Park Primary in Eltham; Millennium Primary in Greenwich; Gordon Primary in Eltham; Linton Mead Primary in Thamesmead, and Willow Dene Special School in Plumstead.

Teachers at Willow Dene reported that pupils Gracie Goodban and Hicham Hamouchene had "come back from the event very excited and wasted no time in telling their teachers and their classmates all about the experience."

The event was hosted and funded by CLM, the Olympic Delivery Authority's delivery partner and supported by the charity WheelPower. Time to Shine is in its second year and more than 50 volunteers, coaches and support staff from WheelPower, CLM and Olympic Park contractors gave up their time to provide a safe and fun environment for the youngsters.

The children were joined by Paralympians Ben Rushgrove (100m silver medalist at the Beijing 2008 Paralympic Games) and wheelchair basketball star Clare Strange.

Mark Reynolds, deputy programme director for CLM, who handed out prizes, said: "Time to Shine is about encouraging disabled children to enjoy sport in a fun environment and it is an important way for us at CLM to give something back to people in the boroughs hosting the Games.

"The enthusiasm of the children as well as the hard work of the volunteers has made the event a huge success. It may even have inspired some of the participants with the dream of competing in a future Paralympic Games."

Martin McElhatton, chief executive of WheelPower, added: "With the 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games under three years away there has never been a better time to encourage more young people with disabilities into sport, art and culture. I would like to thank the boroughs for their support as well as CLM for helping us to provide the Time to Shine event to inspire these young people to achieve their dreams."

● Another event will be held at Stoke Mandeville Stadium on 24-27 August for children aged 12 to 17. Parents who want to apply for places should contact Ann-Marie Cousins, Greenwich Council's Paralympics Legacy Sports Co-ordinator, either by e-mail at ann-marie.cousins@greenwich.gov.uk or by phone on 020-8921 8151.

THE first residents are set to move into new riverside apartments on the site of former industrial wharves next month.

The flats are contained in a low-rise block at Lovell's Wharf providing a total of 139 new homes.

Residents will be moving into Henry Hudson apartments which includes 65 affordable homes for rent, 45 for shared ownership and 29 for sale.

The development has been created by London & Regional Properties and will eventually see five apartment blocks centered around a central square and water garden.

The spacious one, two and three bedroom flats feature large balconies and terraces

WATERSIDE RETREAT: a computer image of Henry Hudson apartments, the first part of the five core low-rise blocks at Lovell's and the latest environmental technologies including green roofs and geothermal heating.

Occupants will have easy access into Greenwich town centre, Canary Wharf and the City.

The new development at Lovell's Wharf also opens up a new section of the river frontage. It means residents and other locals will have clear views of the river Thames and access to a section of the Thames pathway which have been closed to the public for years.

The new apartment blocks are part of the wider regeneration of the Thames pathway which will see more new homes at Delta Wharf and a proposed hotel at Drawdock Road as well as improvements to the riverside footpath and cycle path.

During the building works parts of the river path along the west of Greenwich Peninsula remain temporarily closed to cyclists and walkers.

Full details about the Thames Path closures and diversion routes are available at www.greenwich.gov.uk or on 020 8921 4661.

Philip Binns of the Greenwich Conservation Group, a local planning watchdog, said: "The development means there's going to be many more different ways to access the path."

"There are concerns about the duration of the diversion in place but in the long term it's going to be a great benefit for the people of East Greenwich and people using the path which is going to be much improved."

● The new apartment block is named after Henry Hudson, a 17th century English navigator who explored parts of North America and had the Hudson River, Hudson Strait and Hudson Bay named in his honour.

Winning respect in bedsit land

The rights and wrongs of life under landlords

by Rod Kitson

BEDSITTERS and occupants in self-contained flats may not know exactly where they stand with landlords.

Not all home-letters are scrupulous and there have been cases of tenants forced to live in squalid conditions with far too many occupants under one roof.

But there are regulations on fire escapes and how many people can use one kitchen or bathroom, as well as guidelines on repayment of deposits to tenants.

GT was invited to see how it should be done, with reputable landlady Ashley, who has a bedsit property off Trafalgar Road.

She said: "A good landlord or landlady is someone who is versatile. Sometimes tenants will lose their jobs but will still need accommodation, so rent-wise you don't just throw them out on the street - you've got to be flexible."

CLEAN AND WELCOMING:
landlady Ashley
at her property in Greenwich

To date Ashley has never had to withhold deposit money from her tenants when they leave, and rooms are always well prepared for new occupiers.

"Lots of unscrupulous landlords don't return deposits but I've never not given it back. Our rooms are professionally cleaned for new tenants and I think people respect that."

The rooms in Ashley's family-run property are cleaned weekly and the house has CCTV out the front and an electronic entry system.

Fire prevention is also a big concern. The landlady added: "We don't like people to bring their own electrical goods into their rooms as all of the equipment provided - TV, Hi-fi,

■ If I feel that I would want to live here then I know it is up to scratch fridges - have been checked for safety."

Ashley has a simple rule about the standards of her property: "If I feel that I would want to live here then I know it is up to scratch."

There is a strict policy of one person per room in Ashley's place - a benchmark not adhered to by other letters.

Residential services officer Lorraine Sulaiman said: "The worst case I've seen is 11 people living in a three-bedroom flat. We're trying to get the message across that it's the law that there should be no more than five tenants per kitchen unit. Floors should be easy to clean and that managers should be responsible for cleaning common areas."

Lorraine, who was set to star in TV show 'A Life Of Grime', said: "A lot of landlords try to hide from us, but some tenants don't know where we are to lodge a complaint. I didn't get to finish the TV series. I think I'll stick to being a housing officer - it's a lot safer than the world of the media!"

Scouts appeal for more volunteer leaders

by Pat Greenwood

SCOUTERS were out in Eltham last Saturday, recruiting for more leaders for a hobby which is booming among young people across the borough.

More men and women over 18 are urgently needed to set aside up to eight hours a week, working with beavers, cubs and scouts in units in their local neighbourhood.

Experienced scout leaders, who had a stall in Passey Place last Saturday, May 8, explained what they were looking for, and people who showed an interest were invited to a follow-up meeting.

Andy Melia, the Development Officer for Greater London South Scout County, which covers Greenwich, Lewisham, Southwark, Lambeth and Wandsworth, told GT: "Waiting-lists are at an all-time high – due to the need for more adult helpers. While The Scout Association has been able to create over 13,500 new places this year thanks to 2,871 new adults volunteering their time to local groups, there are currently over 33,500 young people waiting to join Scouting throughout the UK."

In South London 196 new members has helped the UK Scout Movement achieve its biggest growth spurt since 1972. "This surge in membership – the fifth consecutive year of expansion – has helped cement Scouting's position as the largest co-educational youth movement in the country," he said.

Worldwide scouting has 28 million members both male and female and operates in nearly every country in the world.

Andy told us: "Scouting in Eltham is a growing success having increased youth membership by 5.5% last year and adult membership by 5.6%."

Saturday's recruitment drive highlighted the range of flexible opportunities available to adults who volunteer with the scouts.

"There are a variety of other jobs that need to be done such as gardening and general DIY, organising events, doing the accounts and writing press releases," Andy explained.

And he stressed: "We also need more people to give us support as trustees, chairs or treasurers within the movement."

UK Scouts enjoy more than 200 activities including water skiing, abseiling and adventure glider flights.

Explorer Scout Dan, 16 from Plumstead said: "Scouting's awesome. I totally love being involved. You get to do so many amazing activities that you just wouldn't get to do elsewhere."

Chief Scout Bear Grylls said: "Scouting is empowering, wild and fun, and offers so many adventure-based activities for young people and adults alike."

● For further information about joining the young adventurers visit www.scouts.org.uk/join call Andy Melia on 07826 515515 or email andy.melia@gls-scouts.org.uk

Rail users call for service upgrade

A RAIL users' group has been set up in Charlton for locals to discuss issues surrounding the service.

The first meeting was attended by 30 users, local councillors and a representative from SE Trains. The Southeastern train company has come under criticism for its handling of the snowfall earlier in the year, as well as prices and the number of trains it runs. Since the new timetable, introduced at the turn of the year, more peak time trains have run through Charlton, and users at the meeting were pleased with the increased frequency. But they reasoned that the number to Charing Cross and Cannon Street could be greater.

The new group includes the 'Steering group' that meets monthly, and the wider users' group that meets every six months. Group member, David Thompson told GT: "There are a number of issues that we want addressed at Charlton Station."

"Firstly, the short (two carriage) trains that clog up the platform and make life difficult for less mobile passengers who have to walk the length of the platform to catch the train.

"And the ticketing office is rarely open; the lift isn't working, and the toilets are often closed."

He continued: "There is a transport connectivity issue too, with buses leaving the station from many different bus stops."

"Older people at the meeting also raised the issue of Freedom passes and the fact that although there is a cheaper rate after 9.30am, tickets cannot be bought before then, which often leads to them missing the 9.34 train."

Other concerns include the lack of visible management at the station and the general state of the concourse.

"Charlton station was originally set up as a temporary station in World War Two and is in dire need of refurbishment," David added.

● The next users' meeting is in September. For more details email David at david@ynca.co.uk

Get out for garden party

ENJOY the great outdoors and the secret gardens of the capital during the Open Garden Squares Weekend this summer.

The event on June 12&13 is a chance to visit gardens not usually open to the public, enjoy special activities and discover gardens you didn't know existed.

The Environmental Curriculum Service and the Growing Schools Garden off Bexley Road, Eltham, will be open from 10am to 4pm on both days.

The service offers an educational resource for groups, schools and colleges to discover nature and boasts ponds, streams, wildflower meadows, farm animals and an organic veg garden as well as woodlands and hedgerows.

Activities over the weekend include orienteering courses, tree and veg identification challenges, meadow exploration and guided tours. Tickets for the weekend are £7.50 in advance (£9 during the weekend) and allow entry to all participating gardens. Unders 12s are free.

Greenwich Council's Choice Based Lettings Scheme

Edition 184

How the lettings policy works

Housing applicants are placed within 'Bands' according to the Council's policy for letting homes. Your band information is on the letter that the Council sent you when you registered, or when your circumstances changed.

Property adverts say which band can apply and any other criteria. When all the bids are received, the property is then offered to:

For properties advertised for band A and band B - the applicant who has had this priority status for the longest time.

For properties advertised for band C applicants - the applicant who has been registered on the Council's list for the longest time.

Band

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the council must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

1 Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, get an application form by phoning the Access and Allocations Section on 020 8921 2941. Or pick up a form from any neighbourhood office.

2 Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Council about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

3 Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.greenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free in either your neighbourhood housing office, library or UK Online centre.

4 Apply in one of two ways

- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Council's website

www.greenwich.gov.uk/homes

Greenwich Festivals SPECIAL

Get set for Festival Fever 2010!

A SEASON of festivals that launches in Greenwich is taking its cue from some of the country's best-loved festivals, in a bid to establish itself alongside the nation's most enduring events.

While the Edinburgh Festival is synonymous with comedy and street theatre, Glastonbury attracts revelers from across the globe for its world beating music scene.

And between May and November this year, The Greenwich Festivals host a melting pot of music, dance, theatre and film on offer right here in the borough.

There are already a number of established events in the area, with the Children's Theatre Festival and the Greenwich and Docklands International Festival heading the list. The pair - together with new fixtures the Greenwich Film Festival, Comedy Festival, Big Dance, The Summer Sessions, and Greenwich Jazz - combine to make up The Greenwich Festivals.

Frances Dolan, Greenwich Council's

head of culture services, told GT: "The Greenwich Festivals will see a variety of events, some new, some regular fixtures in Greenwich's popular events calendar, come together to showcase the cultural vibrancy of Greenwich to the UK and abroad."

"We hope The Greenwich Festivals will welcome the world to Greenwich to enjoy first-class entertainment. We are already attracting world-famous music artists to take part in some of the events, such as Summer Sessions. This, along with many of the other events, is set to be a big hit on the festivals' calendar."

And Greenwich's shops, markets and bars will be on hand to provide food and drink to festival goers, with The Inc Group - which operates many of the town's restaurants - on board as the 'dining partner' of the festival. Special offers are available for visitors throughout the summer months to make the experience one to remember.

It's the crown Jools

Ex-Squeeze man and local lad Jools Holland tells Scene how he feels about his Greenwich Festivals' Summer Sessions show coming up in July

TOP ivory tinkler, Jools Holland is champing at the bit to play his part in the musical leg of the fest, the Summer Sessions '10, coming up in July.

Jools told us: "I'm thrilled to be able to celebrate Greenwich as part of the Summer Sessions. I've lived and worked in the borough all of my life."

And the boogying bandleader, who headlines Friday night of the four day Sessions at the Old Royal Naval College, added: "My Big Band and I are proud to be based here and all of our recordings and collaborations have been recorded in Greenwich. I jumped at the chance to celebrate its unique history and begin the preparations for its appointment as a Royal borough and celebrate our wonderful part of London in style."

And giving the event that runs from July 21-25 a big thumbs up, he said: "The Summer Sessions is going to be a fantastic four days of music."

The Sessions kick off on Wednesday, July 21, with indie-folk troubadour Seth Lakeman and happy hippies The Levellers, in their only London performances this year. Famous for their love of all things green, the exclusive performance will see the Brighton band trawl their back catalogue of hits, the most enduring of which, Hope Street, is sure to draw the biggest roar. It's a very different kettle of fish when the Royal Philharmonic Concert Orchestra deliver their 'Music for a Summer's Evening' on Thursday, July 22. The evening features the talents of soprano Natasha Marsh, tenor Nicky Spence and conductor Timothy

WIN! TICKETS

Scene has a pair of tickets to Summer Sessions to give away. Just answer this question: In which pop band did Jools Holland rise to fame?

Redmond. Jools and his Rhythm & Blues Orchestra follow on the 23rd, featuring Gilson Lavis alongside very special guests Alison Moyet, Ruby Turner and Louise Marshall.

The monster task of closing the four days on Sunday, July 25, falls at the feet of Deptford boys, Athlete, an indie band who've been around the block more times than their fresh-faced demeanor might suggest. Their biggest hit to date is Wires - a heartfelt and moving ode to the premature birth of lead singer Joel Pott's daughter. July 21-25 (excluding 24th) Tickets £22.50 for residents and £25 for non-residents on Wednesday 21st, Thursday 22nd and Sunday 25th, and £27.50 for residents and £32.50 for non-residents for Friday 23rd.

FINAL SCENE

The big dance-off

As part of The Greenwich Festivals, Greenwich Dance is putting on Big Cabaret and taking part in London-wide fest Big Dance

LIFE is one big cabaret down at Greenwich Dance. Playing their part in the Festivals, the organisation formally known as Greenwich Dance Agency is hosting Big Cabaret.

The event takes place at GD's Borough Hall on Friday May 21 and drinks are available (at your table) from 7.30pm. Greenwich Dance told us: "The Cabaret is a sociable dance event taking place in Greenwich Dance's beautiful 1930's Borough Hall. It features all the best bits of a traditional Cabaret event - table service, live band and compere, alongside a distinctly modern, diverse line up of dance, performance, spoken word, circus and film." The evening's line-up includes a performance by ROH2 (Royal

MODERN DANCE: a group of dancers at Greenwich Dance's Borough Hall base

Opera House) associate artist Sarah Dowling, a Lindy Hop extravaganza choreographed by Temujin Gill, dance solos as well as European duets from Athens, Sofia and Zagreb. The Big Cabaret is the second 'CitytoCity Cabaret', an international series of events - part of the British Council's Creative Collaboration programme to support connections between artists in South East Europe and the UK. Leading by example in the UK is Greenwich Dance which is in partnership with Heteropodi Dance Company in Bulgaria, Full House Promotion in Greece and HIPP from Croatia. GD added: "The Big Cabaret also marks the launch of Big Dance in South East London, where Greenwich Dance with its local partners will be enlivening South East London with over forty exciting dance workshops, performances and events, taking place in the boroughs of Bexley, Bromley, Lewisham and Greenwich." Big Cabaret's big brother is Big Dance - a London-wide event that happens every two years with nine days of dance events in unusual places across the capital.

And that could be locations as diverse as shops, parks, galleries and museums - all with the aim of showcasing the diversity of dance styles in a range of different lights and spaces. Full details of the programme for The Big Dance will be unveiled on May 21 at The Big Cabaret.

Tickets for Big Cabaret are £15/10 and the night of mixed dance runs from 7.30pm

Greasing the wheels

Greenwich Film Festival returns with a Drive-in movie and a showing of 70s classic Grease

ACROSS various locations, this year's Greenwich Film Festival has its lens focussed on the past, present and the future, to look at how film can transport viewers through time.

Visitors are invited to sit back and relax to join the festival on a journey through futuristic science-fiction to the nostalgia of period drama from July 15-18. Last year's event was a big draw, with some stunning outdoor performances relating to the areas they were shot in. Psychedelic masterpiece Blow Up was shown in Charlton's Maryon Park, where many of its standout scenes were filmed, while The Railway Children had an airing at the Well Hall Pleasance - the park close to the author's childhood home.

And this year there is an outdoor screening on the big screen at Woolwich's General Gordon Square, and a full size 'Drive-In' showing of Grease in Avery Hill Park. Adding spice to the 50s themed movie is a classic car display and a rock 'n' roll dance competition. There is a Film Challenge for budding directors, and special showings at the Vue,

The Picturehouse and even the Planetarium.

The Film Festival is on from 15-18 July across various venues. For more info visit www.greenwich.gov.uk/filmfestival

Beer and Jazz fest

Beer and all that's Jazz

GREENWICH Beer and Jazz kicks off on May 27 and features a solid gold performance from ex-Spandau Ballet front man

Tony Hadley.

Hadley and his new swing band will be topping the bill on Sunday May 30 and blue-eyed soul veterans the Brand New Heavies headline on Saturday May 29. The shindig takes place in the grounds of the Old Naval College in Greenwich town centre and the now legendary beer tent returns with over Scooby Snax was a big hit for 90s favourites Fun Lovin' Criminals, and featured on the soundtrack to Quentin Tarantino's Pulp Fiction. The band are the evening draw on Friday May 28, and they follow the afternoon session from Hayseed Dixon. First on the bill of three main acts is Polly And The Billets Doux. Jazz faves Incognito close the festival on May 31 after nu-jazz man Omar. Each day doors and bars open at 12noon, three main acts and plenty of smaller ones, with last orders at 10.30pm - meaning that drink-up time is a very reasonable 11.00pm.

It's not just real ale lovers that are catered for though - jugs of Pimms, cocktails, wine and soft drinks are all available. Veterans of the festival may remember the eccentric but environmentally friendly way the drinks are distributed: Revellers purchase a 'festival glass' on entry for a £3 refundable deposit - saving broken glasses and annoying festival plastic glass clutter - but last year, most preferred to take the wacky glasses home as a souvenir.

Another bonus for boozers is that free tasters are available before splashing out on a whole pint, so it's easy to find your perfect drink out of the 140+ tipples on offer.

Greenwich's own Meantime Breweries will be present once again and proved one of the most popular thirst quenchers last year.

May 27-31

Tickets £15-£27.50 depending on day
No under 18s after 5pm and must be accompanied by an adult before 5pm.

LOL at COM(edy) fest...

LAUGH? We nearly died. It was London's biggest ever comedy festival, and it weighed anchor in Greenwich last September. During the Greenwich Comedy Festival week over 15,000 tickets were sold and more than 30 unique shows were rolled out featuring comedy heavyweights including Russell Howard, Jo Brand, Rich Hall, Adam Buxton, Rob Newman and many more. This year the festival takes place from 6-12 September and the second installment is set to be even bigger than last year's laugh-a-thon.

The bash takes place in the grounds of the Old Royal Naval College - where else - as well as two other venues.

Enjoy waterfront views from Thames river cruise ship

LOCALS and visitors can enjoy scenic views of the capital on a cruise down the river Thames this summer.

The historic Balmoral ship will be sailing from Woolwich on four trips this summer.

It's a chance to cruise up the Thames and spot landmarks such as the Thames Barrier; the magnificent Greenwich Waterfront, Millennium Dome and Canary Wharf before Tower Bridge opens for you to sail into the heart of London with views of HMS Belfast.

The Balmoral was built in 1949 in Southampton and has been extensively refurbished thanks to a Heritage Lottery Fund to replace her engines and restore period lounges.

During its life the ship has been a car ferry and a restaurant, its on board facilities include a restaurant, two bars, heated lounges and a souvenir shop.

The boat will be sailing from Woolwich on July 23 and 31 and on August 1 and 5. On July 31 there's a chance to visit the Whitstable Regatta – possibly the oldest event of its type in the world. Alternatively you can visit the seaside at Southend with plenty of family entertainment and home to the world's longest pier.

Captain Andy O'Brian said: "There is no better way to spend the day than relaxing on deck and watching the spectacular scenery slip by."

"This really is a trip to cherish and enjoy – the ship really tells a story about how the Thames has evolved and how past generations enjoyed their leisure time."

Food safety alert over meat snacks

PACKETS of meat snacks have been pulled from the shelves of six Greenwich stores following a food safety alert.

The 35 gram packets of halal chicken and beef snacks are mainly consumed by the borough's African communities.

They were withdrawn from sale after a food safety alert issued by Greenwich Council environmental health officers last month.

They found that the meat snacks were produced in a factory which had not been approved for the purpose although manufacturers have approval to produce fish products.

The Food Standards Agency and other London authorities were notified of the food alert along with other stores in the capital that had been supplied with the snacks.

Now food producers at Asiko House of Foods on the New Lyndenbury Industrial Estate, Charlton, are applying for approval to produce the meat snacks.

Charlton's fate down to play-off games

season broke a 15-game drought and pushed him level with Burton as top scorer. It also co-incided with news via bush telegraph that Bristol Rovers were in front at Elland Road, Millwall had equalised against Swindon and Huddersfield had surrendered an early lead at Exeter. For a few, surreal minutes, before reality re-asserted itself, the Addicks had one tentative foot in the Championship door. All too soon it was closed painfully on them. Somehow you knew it would be.

Three minutes after the break, Flahavan put this particular result beyond doubt, not that any existed. The mess he made of collecting an indifferently struck free kick from Miguel Llera allowed the ball to squirm inexplicably through his hands and over the line, turning the daunting task already facing Oldham into one of those proverbial mountains you hear about.

Bailey spared the Latics a rout when he immediately skipped

clear on to Jim Goodwin's sloppy backpass, rounded Flahavan, took careful aim but missed an unguarded net from an admittedly acute angle. It hardly mattered.

Stepping in for warm-up injury victim Sam Sodje, meanwhile, Llera fitted in seamlessly alongside forever young Christian Dailly while, in central midfield, Jose Semedo and Terry Racon hoovered up most of Oldham's puny attacks at source. In registering his fifth clean sheet in eight games, Darren Randolph was untroubled until Dale Stephens stung his fingers with a late 25-yard corker. This was really a piece of cake.

So the regular season is history, with Charlton's short term fate neatly compressed into two, hopefully three, play-off games.

Sound defensively and in midfield, their inability to score freely remains their main concern. Against woefully weak opposition, the two goals they managed here was the first time they'd scored more than once in any game since the 2-2 draw with Gillingham on March 20. Mind you, only four goals have been conceded in eight games since then. Should the play-offs come down to a war of attrition, Charlton seem ideally suited to the trenches. Stick your helmet on. This could be sticky.

And so to the play-offs

Charlton fall short and head for Swindon

FIVE ALIVE: Charlton Athletic's Miguel Angel Llera (number 5) celebrates scoring their second goal with his team mates.

Oldham Charlton

by Kevin Nolan

UP at battered old Boundary Park, Charlton pragmatically accomplished their part of the equation.

They coasted to unruffled victory over barely interested Oldham Athletic as League One's second place bar of soap slipped in turn from the grasp of all five candidates until unconvincing Leeds United managed to clutch it long enough to crawl over the line.

When Nicky Bailey shot the Addicks in front on 23 minutes, they briefly held pole position as scorelines elsewhere favoured them. It was, of course, too much to ask; when the various pendulums stopped swinging, Charlton were in fourth position and paired with Swindon Town in the play-off semi-finals. Their efforts in beating Oldham at least earned them the supposed advantage of playing the first leg away at the County Ground on Friday evening.

Solid, composed but not particularly inspired, Charlton had little to beat on Saturday. Having rewarded manager Dave Penney with the sack for piloting them clear of relegation, the rudderless Latics had all but knocked off for the summer. Had Bailey not laid claim to Charlton's miss-of-the-season with the score 2-0, they might have capsized completely. The second of those goals, featuring an appalling lapse in concentration by goalkeeper Darryl Flahavan, was the kind of howler likely to demolish what was left of a fragile side's confidence. A third setback might have set in motion some kind of domino effect but Oldham survived after a fashion, as their visitors went through the motions.

Clearly superior in all areas, Charlton took their time before sealing their superiority with a cleverly conceived opener. The early spadework was done by Frazer Richardson and David Mooney, the latter's sharp pass taken in his stride by elusive winger Lloyd Sam, who broke through left back Paul Black's rash challenge to cross hard and low. With both Mooney and Deon Burton unable to make telling contact, it became Bailey's easy task to tap home at the far post.
